Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 21-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ramalingam WO 01/95312 and further in view of Zinser et al. (6,678,654).

As to claim 21, Ramalingam teaches a method of processing voice in a voice recognition system, comprising the steps of:

Configuring a front-end voice processor (20) to process voice features and transmit them to the back -end according to a back-end processor (40). Ramlingam doesn't explicitly teach where the configuring includes based on the back-end voice processor design. However, Zinser teaches a method for configuring a first voice processor, according to the type and design of the second voice processor of the receiving side (Col.28, line 60-Col.29, line 5). Therefore, one skilled in the art would appreciate the advantage of modifying the configuring in Ramlingam art, especially in view of Zinser, for the purpose of ensuring compatibility between the two processors.

As to claims 22-24, Ramlingam teaches configuration file, control message 36, transmitted through wireless communication link.

As to claim 25-28, Zinser teaches where the configuring includes adjusting/converting a plurality voice parameters (Col.32, lines 50-65) and a DSP.

As to claim 29, Zinser teaches where voice features at the sender are processed according to a first and a second receiver voice processors (Col.28, lines 60-67).

Claims 30-43 are analogous to claims 21-29 and are rejected for being anticipated by Ramalingam and in view of Zinser.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments are not persuasive as the new art (Zinser et al.) teaches configuring a speech processor according to the design of a "back-end" receiver speech processor in a speech processing/encoding system.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
